Handwritten header or title at the top of the page.

Handwritten text on the left side, possibly a date or reference.
